Christian Conduct

Conduct should always be that which is becoming to a Christian. Since Christian conduct is the Bible's rule and subject to interpretation, the Camp Police reserve the right to define "Christian Conduct."

1. Unmarried couples are not permitted beyond the mowed camp area. At night they must stay within the lighted zones.
2. Boys are not permitted to escort girls to their dorms and vice versa.
3. MP3 players, radios, phones and CD players being used to play unchristian music will be confiscated and returned to the owner at the end of camp. The above mentioned articles belonging to single young people will be returned to their parents at the end of camp.
4. NO TELEVISIONS ARE PERMITTED!
5. All campers wishing to sing in the camp choir must comply with the camp rules relative to hair and dress, namely; all men and boys must have their hair cut to proper length so as not to allow hair on the eyebrows, over the ears or shirt collar. All ladies and girls are not allowed to wear sleeveless garments and dresses are to be below the knees. Both men and ladies shall follow the applicable guidelines of the WI District Music Ministry .

Dress Policy

A subject of this nature and magnitude requires that we stay very close to Biblical authority. Personal opinion in this topic can be challenged by a multitude of pros and cons, but if you believe in the authority of the Word, then perhaps this subject can be approached with some candid objectivity.

II Timothy 2:4 says, "No man that warreth entangleth himself with the affairs of this life; that he may please Him who hath chosen him to be a soldier." We often sing "Onward Christian Soldiers" and refer to it as the international anthem of our church . We sing about following the military disciplines of our Heavenly Commander. The above verse of scripture reminds us that we are to please Him who called us to be soldiers and not to be caught up with the affairs of this world. These and similar verses of Holy writ have admonished every generation that they are to identify with Christ and not with the world.

Parents, pastors and principals must, in all fairness to the spiritual welfare of our children, take Bible in hand and enunciate as clearly as possible what it means to identify with Christ in our manner of dress. Jesus did everything possible to avoid attracting unusual attention to Himself. Although He was the King of Kings, He did not dress in royal attire. He did not go to the other extreme and dress as the underprivileged poor, although He ministered to these people much of the time. He dressed as the average man of His day. By His manner of dress he did not identify with the radical right or the radical left.

Isaiah 53:2 says, "He hath no form nor comeliness and when we shall see Him, there is not beauty that we should desire Him." Jesus was inconspicuous to the point that when the soldiers came for Him in the Garden of Gethsemane, Judas had to point Him out and identify Him from among the followers.

Patterning one's self after the rock groups in either their dress, music, speech or standard of conduct is very much the opposite of patterning one's self after Jesus Christ. Holiday Magazine quotes Eric Burdon of the "Animals" as saying, "I was non-religious, but I've got religion now—I got it through LSD." Today's religious leaders could be the Beatles.

It would seem logical that our young, and even a few adults, should do everything possible to avoid taking on the appearance, or even a distant resemblance, or a group of individuals who despise the name of Christ, who would destroy our country if they could and who have little or no regard for Biblical authority. I Thessalonians 5:22 says, "Abstain from all appearance of evil." Surely Christian young people have enough innate creativity to find a style of dress that is attractive to them, that can be characterized as "modest apparel" (I Timothy 2:9) and is in no way identified with an anti-American element. It is the height of hypocrisy to claim to be a follower of Jesus and then wear the garb of the enemy. It is tantamount to spiritual treason to sing "Onward Christian Soldiers" and listen later to the rock drummer of the Lord's opposition. It is impossible to march in two armies. Joshua admonished his general, "Choose you this day whom you will serve..." Joshua 24:15

As responsible leaders of our young people we must have enough spiritual fortitude and Biblical insight to clearly identify for our youngsters the error of their ways, including their manner of dress and the music they listen to. There is, of course, nothing wrong with a style change now and then, and young people of all ages have been on the forefront of changed fads and fashions. But young people of every generation, if they are on the Lord's side, must conform to the Lord's standards. And the Lord, through His Word, has something definite to say about men wearing long hair. I Corinthians 11:14 says, "If a man have long hair, it is a shame unto him." The woman, however, is to wear her hair long. The next verse, I Corinthians 11:15 says, "But if a woman have long hair, it is a glory to her." The Bible gives considerable space to the precept that men should be masculine and women should be feminine. Deuteronomy 22:5 says, "The woman shall not wear that which pertaineth unto a man, neither should a man put on woman's garments; for all that do so are an abomination unto the Lord thy God."
